

Western USA – Product Development Specialist

Rijk Zwaan is an independent, international company specialized in the breeding, production and marketing of vegetable seeds. Our parent company is located in The Netherlands. Rijk Zwaan has 30 subsidiaries in various countries and is amongst the top 10 vegetable seed companies worldwide. Over 2,500 employees work in many different locations all over the world, with enormous commitment, loyalty and dedication. The company culture is characterized by a motivating policy and a good working atmosphere. Turnover of personnel is, therefore, extremely low. Most vacancies are created due to our constant and strong growth.

Rijk Zwaan USA has a sales team made up of representatives all around the country with a great team spirit and with colleagues working together to achieve results.

Do you enjoy working with growers? Are you passionate about the vegetable industry? If so, apply for this vacancy for a Product Development Specialist. We have an extensive training program available.

The vacancy for a Product Development Specialist at Rijk Zwaan USA

The Product Development Specialist is responsible for developing Rijk Zwaan seed business in the Western Region. Within this role, you are responsible for organizing and following variety trials in consultation with Rijk Zwaan staff, distributors, growers and cooperating companies with a focus on the leafy vegetables. In addition, you are also responsible for the introduction and sales of the total Rijk Zwaan open field product development activities for all outdoor varieties in the Western USA.

We are seeking a Product Development Specialist with the following criteria:

- BS, or higher in Agriculture, Agronomy, Horticulture, or related field
- Experience in agriculture, seed business or production is a plus.
- Strong communication and written skills
- Strong interest in product knowledge
- Ability to develop good long term industry relationships
- Team oriented
- Highly motivated and able to work independently

Benefits:

Full Company Benefits included.

Interested?

Please apply through https://www.appone.com/MainInfoReq.asp?R_ID=1471053 to the attention of Loretta Brown (Office Manager)